Anticipated Events™

Give Your Discerning Account-Holders a Head Start

Recognia Anticipated Events™ is a technical investment research product geared to the requirements of active traders. Instead of after-the-fact analysis, Recognia Anticipated Events pro-actively scans the market to identify Technical Events in the process of forming. Keeping your most discerning account-holders in the know.

Offering Active Traders Advanced Analytics

Increase investor activity by offering advanced technical analysis. Offer your account-holders advanced knowledge by detecting and alerting them to the formation of Technical Event opportunities before they happen.

Enhance Client Satisfaction and Loyalty

Active traders are always looking for the “edge” in their trading decisions. Increase loyalty and satisfaction by giving your active traders breaking news on pattern formations and signals prior to the rest of the market. Keeping them in the “know” will keep your most discerning traders coming back regularly.

Differentiate your Service Offering
